The DVD and Blu-ray ripper allows you to burn and backup personal discs for archiving or distribution. It can rip DVD and Blu-ray video to DVD-5 or Blu-ray disc. You can rip the video by clicking a few buttons to meet your different needs. The program is very easy to use and it will take you less than 1 minute to complete your tasks. 1.Start the DVD ripping process. 3.Choose the output format of the output file. 4.Choose the video and audio bitrate and resolution. 5.Select the output device. 6.Check the folders where you want the output files to be saved. 7.Put a password on your data to maintain your privacy. 8.The finished rips will be saved on your disk drive. This is only the tip of the iceberg. It would be a serious lack of love for a full-fledged program to omit a benchmark feature to determine the ripping speed, rather than featuring one.
